

So Much Depends...

So much depends upon the golden moon
lighting the black summer's night
like a lantern

dangling peacefully
amongst the stars

until day breaks

-----
So much depends upon the blazing sun

The dawning of a new day
as it sheds its warmth
upon the earth

The giver of light
a fiery jewel in the sky

Our world's true savior.

So much depends upon a White volleyball

As smooth as A rose petal

Lying bedside other Smooth volleyballs

With nowhere to go Beside the hand of The volleyball player
Who sets the ball so smoothly

This Is Just To Say...

This is just to say
I have taken the money that was in the safe

And which you were probably saving for the mall

Forgive me
it was new so crisp
and so green
